

Naval Systems Inc. (NSI)
Standard Warranty Policy

NSI warrants that items shall be serviced in accordance with the latest applicable manufacturer's specifications and all applicable FAA rules and regulations. NSI warrants that the items will be fit and sufficient to the extent that all items will be merchantable, serviceable, of good material and workmanship, and free from defects.

Such warranties, together with the service warranties set forth below shall survive inspection, test, acceptance of and payment for its successors, assigns and customers.

Repairs: All units repaired by NSI will be covered under warranty for 90 days minimum or as otherwise stated in the contract. This will include warranty on detailed parts, circuits and/or functions of the portion repaired only, and not the complete unit certified.

Overhauls: All units overhauled by NSI will be covered by warranty for 90 days minimum, from the date of overhaul.

All above warranty policies apply unless variance is specified in writing, or differ from specific manufacturer's policies.

Warranty Denied: If the noted defect cannot be verified and no defects are found, the Buyer will be responsible for the evaluation/test & inspect/no trouble found charge. All warranties denied by NSI will be quoted and approved prior to service and return. The quote will reflect all pertinent information, to include the charge and the reason for the warranty denial. A serviceable Maintenance Release Tag marked "Bench Checked" or "Inspected" will be attached to the unit.

Warranty Accepted: If, however, a defect is found, NSI will re-perform service. All work accomplished under warranty shall be performed without additional cost to the Buyer.

The Buyer shall have the right to require prompt correction of such defects or non-conformity at no further expense to the Buyer. If NSI is instructed by the Buyer to correct the defect and NSI fails to promptly accomplish the same, the Buyer may correct said defect and charge NSI its cost thereby incurred, or terminate the Agreement for default. Return to NSI of any defective item resulting from NSI's service of such item shall be at the expense of NSI.

Except for latent defects, fraud or such gross error of NSI as to amount to fraud, notice of any defects or non-conformity must be given by the Buyer to NSI within 90 days from the date of service. Warranty is limited to parts replaced at the time of service.
